Dundee bound

Iconic John Byrne stage set preserved and digitised before moving to V&A Dundee Malicious Mischief?
WOMEN’S SUFFRAGE IN SCOTLAND

Discover the stirring story of the struggle for the vote by peaceful and violent means. Protests and arrests, hunger strikes and force-feeding are starkly revealed in official records that document how the authorities battled and frustrated the suffrage cause in Scotland.

FREE EXHIBITION
1-31 AUGUST 2018 | MONDAY – FRIDAY 9.30-4.30
Learn more at www.nrscotland.gov.uk

National Records of Scotland
General Register House, 2 Princes Street,
Edinburgh EH1 3YY
WELCOME

A history of photography, the first UK exhibition of a compelling archive and a look at royal literature, it’s all here...

Of collections and kings

All of our collections are unique, but some have very special national and international importance. The new MacKinnon collection is one. It includes 14,000 images, dating from the earliest days of photography in the 1840s to the middle of the 20th century. There are works by pioneers such as David Octavius Hill and Robert Adamson, as well as many rare and unique prints. Read more about this exciting and extraordinary collection on pages 17–20.

This year marks the 200th anniversary of the birth of African American activist and author, Frederick Douglass. In October, we will display his manuscripts, letters and photographs. A preview of this fascinating exhibition is on pages 10–11.

More than 200 years before Douglass was born, James VI was establishing a reputation as a scholarly monarch by creating an impressive personal library and authoring a wide variety of books, poetry and treatises. Find out about some of the king’s literary interests on pages 21–23.

Coming up to date, the opening in September of the V&A in Dundee is a significant event in Scotland’s cultural story. We are delighted to contribute by loaning the set, in the form of a massive pop-up book, of John McGrath’s celebrated 1970s play The Cheviot, the Stag and the Black, Black Oil. There is more about the set (created by John Byrne), the play and the V&A on pages 28–29.

Indeed, there are numerous illuminating articles in this edition of Discover. Please enjoy and have a lovely summer.

Dr John Scally, National Librarian
e: NationalLibrarian@nls.uk

THE CLUES

GUESS WHO?
From our clues to the left, can you guess which famous Scottish explorer and missionary we are referring to?

Tweet your answer to @natlibscot using the hashtag #natlibquiz
6 NEWS
Read all about our first ever animator in residence, our new opening hours and meet our new Scots Scriever

10 FREEDOM FIGHTER
A collection of letters and photographs tell the story of a former slave’s lifelong fight for social justice

14 A NOVEL IDEA
From fiction to children’s books, cataloguing the incredibly prolific creative output of Alexander McCall Smith

17 CAUGHT ON CAMERA
A captivating visual record of 100 years of changing life in Scotland from the 1840s: physically, socially and economically

21 BETWEEN THE PAGES
Two rare works offer a unique insight into King James VI’s passion for books as avid collector and learned scholar

24 EASTERN PROMISE
200 years on, a film crew has retraced the journeys of seasoned traveller Henrietta Liston in Turkey

CONTRIBUTORS...

Celeste-Marie Bernier
Professor of Black Studies and Personal Chair in English Literature

David Robinson
Freelance journalist

Dr Graham Hogg
Curator, Rare Books, Maps & Music Collections

Robert L. Betteridge
Curator, Rare Books, Maps & Music Collections

Dora Petherbridge
Curator, US and Commonwealth Collections

HIT THE ROAD.
INSPIRED BY A SELECTION OF VINTAGE TOURIST GUIDES
SHORT COURSES 2018/19

Discover our range of courses
www.ed.ac.uk/short-courses

THE UNIVERSITY OF EDINBURGH
Centre for Open Learning

Nairn Book Arts
Festival
15 years

Don’t miss the Highlands’ premier arts event.
Tickets on sale from 19 June 11-16 September 2018
www.nairnfestival.co.uk

Beyond Borders Scotland
The Platform for Small Nation Dialogue and Cultural Exchange

Beyond Borders International Festival
25-26 August 2018
Traquair House, Innerleithen, EH44 6PW

Programme & Box Office: 0131 290 2686
www.beyondbordersscotland.com

Beyond Borders
Featuring
Arts & Music
Food & Drink
in the Walled Garden

“It’s like joining a rather wonderful party, but you are talking about serious matters, interesting matters”

Kate Adie,
Former BBC Chief News Correspondent

SUMMER 2018 | DISCOVER | 5
Over the three months of spring 2018, Louise Wilde had the time of her life, promoting the joys of animation and delivering her own creative response to the Library’s unique Moving Image Archive.

It was all possible because she had taken up the temporary post of Animator in Residence at the Moving Image Archive. Between March and June she held animation workshops for local schoolchildren and college students, designed and created an animation space for members of the public, and explored and responded to the Library’s collection.

Originally an illustrator, Louise became increasingly fascinated by animation and went on to undertake the MA in Animation Direction at the Royal College of Art (RCA) in London.

She said: “Animation offers infinite possibilities in terms of exploring ideas and expressing your imagination. I like to provide very accessible animation projects where people can create their own hand-drawn sequences then view them using traditional optical toy devices such as a zoetrope or flipbook. It’s like creating a piece of magic and the look on people’s faces when they create something that comes to life is priceless.”

Louise moved to Edinburgh in 2015 and said the Animator in Residence post was an opportunity too good to miss. “I’d been exploring early animation methods and creating hand-printed animated sequences at Edinburgh Printmakers. That included using traditional printmaking methods such as etching, so when I saw the ad for the position it seemed perfect, especially since I’d also been running workshops focusing on early animation techniques.”

The post allowed her to further explore work by inspirational Scottish animators and experimental filmmakers such as Norman McLaren and Margaret Tait. “There are lots of beautiful old films to see and I’ve been making animations in response.”

She said the big challenge was creating the interactive animation space for the public. However, with much of the work complete, she’s anticipating its imminent unveiling.

Although the post ended in June, Louise will now continue to respond creatively to the Moving Image Archive. “I’d like to continue running animation workshops – that’s something I’m really excited about. Also, I want to carry on exploring early animation devices and experiment with interactive animated spaces.”

“It was a wonderful experience and I was lucky to work with a brilliant team of people at the Moving Image Archive.”

WILDE ABOUT ANIMATION

MOVING EXPERIENCE

Above: Louise at work

Left: One of Louise’s Praxinscope etchings

Below: Zoetrope artwork from one of the workshops
McNaughtan’s
Bookshop & Gallery
Scotland’s oldest secondhand and antiquarian bookshop (est. 1977)
Books bought & sold | Catalogues issued | now holding Typewronger Books
3a & 4a Haddington Place
Edinburgh, EH7 4AE
Tuesday - Saturday 10am - 5pm
+44 (0)131 556 5897
info@mcnaughtans.co.uk
www.mcnaughtans.co.uk
@mcnaughtans

Typewronger Books
find us at McNaughtan’s, 4a Haddington Place, EH7 4AE

INTERNATIONAL COMPANIONS TO SCOTTISH LITERATURE
International Companions to Scottish Literature offer essential insights into Scottish literary studies, covering key authors, periods, and topics from the medieval to the contemporary. Written and edited by leading scholars, these books provide comprehensive, authoritative, and accessible guides to all aspects of Scotland’s literature, past and present.

wigtownbookfestival.com
01988 403222
SOUTHWEST SCOTLAND
Dr Michael Dempster has been appointed as our new Scots Scriever, taking up a two-year residency.

"Ma first language is Scots," - Hit taen me a lang, lang while fir tae be able tae come tae say that. See, A’m fae a bit o Scotland thit disnae hiv a nemm fir oor language ither’n the adjectival ‘wrang’ ur ‘terrible’, ur, if ye’s sprachlin fir a noon, ‘slang’.

We dinnae e’en hae a nemm lik ‘Glesga’ ur ‘Dundonian’. The maist favour ye’ll get is when ye’r amang faimly ur freins an ye’r telt tae jist “talk normal!”

Fir masel, tho, that wis jist sic thit A cuid get a finger-haud on whit wis gaun on wi wir language. As a wean newly airmt wi ma three pink tickets, A taen masel tae the Ladyton library tae fun oot mair.

This wis mibbie the first A’d went ootside the bairns’ section. Gaein by the lang shelf o Encyclopedia Britannica wi their thistles on their spines, tae ma prize: The Dictionary of Slang! An in it A fun precisely nae o oor language.

But the language wis stull there aw the time. Singin auld songs at hame an in the folk club ma Mither ran, that wee bittie Burns in the drama grup an aye on the lips o thaim thit steyed at oor bit. A’d aye pley wi it makin up daft wee rhymes an stories an songs.

Flittin tae Glesga oor language made us ‘the teuchters’, stull tho, the patter o Glesga haes jist as bonne a sklint fae “proper” as oor language did.

Oor the years, as A got mair an mair intae language in ma scientific an artistic practice, A realized thit this ‘normal’, this wey o talkin, haed a history gaein back mair’n seeven hunner year. Thit this ‘normal’ wis the language o law an governance. This this ‘normal’ wis oniehin but normal in wider Scottish society whilst stull bein normal in a million hooses an hames the world ower.

An this ‘normal’ wis a hing thit wis faur easier tae discreive bi treatin hit in its ain richt an no as a unweildy bunnle o exceptions tae hit’s sister language. Wirkin as a creator, wi Scots taen as normal. A fun nearhaun awb’dy thit A wirked wi, e’en thaim thit spoke it, wis illiterate in their ain first language. Wirkin wi sang an scripts A need ma collaborators tae be literate. Wirkin athin ma speech communitie A kin see a affae sair need fir fowk tae be literate in their ain Scots.

Sae A decidit A wis gaun’a mak that bulk thit A wis luikin fir in the Ladyton library. Somethin ye kin rax doon fir tae unnerstaun whit wey us in Scotland aften talk that different fae whit’s expectit o us an tae hae fowk raelize that mich o wir history is boont up in oor Scots language. An tae access that, weel, mibbie we’ll juist hae tae mak Scots scrievers o us aw.

THE SCOTTISH GENEALOGY SOCIETY
Family History Centre
All Scotland’s OPRs on film... census records...
Largest M.I. collection in Scotland and free access to www.ancestry.co.uk and www.findmypast.co.uk
Open 5 days a week, except Friday & Sunday
Contact us at 15 Victoria Terrace, Edinburgh EH1 2JL
Telephone 031 220 3677
enquiries@scotsgenealogy.com
www.scotsgenealogy.com

RAISING AWARENESS AND USE OF THE SCOTS LANGUAGE

An this ‘normal’ wis a hing thit wis faur easier tae discreive bi treatin hit in its ain richt an no as a unweildy bunnle o exceptions tae hit’s sister language. Wirkin as a creator, wi Scots taen as normal. A fun nearhaun awb’dy thit A wirked wi, e’en thaim thit spoke it, wis illiterate in their ain first language. Wirkin wi sang an scripts A need ma collaborators tae be literate. Wirkin athin ma speech communitie A kin see a affae sair need fir fowk tae be literate in their ain Scots.

Sae A decidit A wis gaun’a mak that bulk thit A wis luikin fir in the Ladyton library. Somethin ye kin rax doon fir tae unnerstaun whit wey us in Scotland aften talk that different fae whit’s expectit o us an tae hae fowk raelize that mich o wir history is boont up in oor Scots language. An tae access that, weel, mibbie we’ll juist hae tae mak Scots scrievers o us aw.

The new Scots Scriever
Dr Michael Dempster
In response to visitor and reader demand, we have changed the opening hours at the Library’s George IV Bridge building in Edinburgh.

From July, the building is closing earlier in the evenings and fully closing on Sundays. However, the reading room opening hours are now extended on Saturdays.

The changes reflect the different needs of the Library’s visitors and readers. For example, in a recent survey, reading room users said they would use the Library more if Saturday opening hours were longer.

The new hours are:
- Monday, Tuesday, Thursday: 09.30-19.00
- Wednesday: 10.00-19.00
- Friday, Saturday: 09.30-17.00
- Sunday: closed.

Filmmakers aged under 19 living in Scotland have the chance to leave their legacy in the national film archive by submitting a one-minute film showing what Scotland means to them.

Budding auteurs have the freedom to use any technology — camera, phone or tablet. It can be:
- any genre
- any theme
- any language.

And it can be created as an individual or part of a group, club, school or family. Films must be submitted as a digital file by Monday 1 October 2018 via filmfreeway.com/WhatScotlandMeansToMe

Winning entries will be screened as part of the Scottish Youth Film Festival and preserved in the Library’s Moving Image Archive to become a part of Scotland’s stories for future generations.

For more information, email the Moving Image Archive Learning Officers at movingimagelearning@nls.uk

To view competition guidelines and to download a submission form and a contributor’s release form visit: www.nls.uk/film-competition